After that, in a sign of joy, everybody claps hands, and all give a grand shriek--all this being done in the presence of the prisoners.

26; Thevet--244 G-3 (1555) 1928 Tupinamba
201

While leaving this lodge they beat their mouths with their hands, or passing in front of them, to frighten them the best they could.